PITT HEAD FOOTBALL COACH SERAFINO "FOGE" FAZIO "THE PERFECT HOMETOWN HERO"

Pitt head football coach Foge Fazio was described last fall by a local business leader as "the perfect hometown hero" when Fazio was asked to serve as grand marshal in the city's Thanksgiving Day parade.

Fazio has continued to be similarly honored because of his popularity in Pittsburgh and because of his success in two seasons as head coach of the Panthers. His seventeen victories in two seasons tie him with his predecessor, Jackie Sherrill, for the best start by a head coach in the school's history.

This past summer Fazio was honored as "Man of the Year" at the city's annual YMCA awards dinner, and he was toasted and roasted as "Man of the Year" by the Circus Saints and Sinners Club of America.

"I am humbled and honored at the same time to be in the same category as some of the past recipients, people I always looked up to when I was growing up in this area," said Fazio. "It's hard to believe these honors are being given to me. It's very meaningful and very touching."

Fazio has been rewarded for his efforts in other ways, as well. When he succeeded Sherrill, he signed a five-year contract. This past January he received a two-year extension, which means he is signed to direct the nationally-respected Pitt football program for the next five years.

"Receiving the contract extension is an award for the whole staff," says Fazio. "It looks like we'll be coaching here throughout the '80s. It shows stability in our program."

"It's important for the players we recruit to know that we'll be here. And this is where we intend to stay. This is my school, and I'm still pinching myself about coaching at the school where players like Mike Ditka, Joe Walton, Joe Schmidt, Tony Dorsett, Hugh Green, and Danny Marino matriculated."

Fazio is not only recognized as an outstanding coach in the Pittsburgh area. His reputation is nationally known. When Howard Schnellenberger left the University of Miami for the pros, Fazio was one of the people approached as a candidate to coach the 1983 national champions.

"I was approached, but there was never any serious discussion," says Fazio. "I'm very happy at the University of Pittsburgh, and I intend to stay here."

Fazio has earned respect in all circles, especially from the players he has coached.

"Last year Coach Fazio took a team that wasn't supposed to do anything and finished 8-3-1," says former Pitt standout Tom Flynn, who now plays for the Green Bay Packers. "It shows you the character of the man."

"Foge is a Pitt man," says Dr. Edward E. Bozik, Pitt's Director of Athletics. "He embodies the values we have at the University. He understands them, knows them well, and I have the utmost trust and faith not only in his ability as a coach, but in his humanity, integrity, and warmth."

Fazio is also a family man. He and his wife, Norma, have two children, Kristen (16) and Vince (13). During most Pitt football games and practices, Vince can usually be found at his father's side, and a common sight at Pitt practices is Norma and Kris taking the family dog, Patches, for a stroll around the field.

"Foge is a great guy," says Norma. "He handles people well. He's sincere when he talks to them. He doesn't put on airs. Foge is Foge. He is what he is."

"Coaching football means everything to Foge. He's been involved in it so long. It's the only thing he enjoys. It was a thrill for him, an accomplishment, that he could be head coach at his alma mater."

"I was fortunate to get two degrees from the University," says Fazio. "I always tell our players that they are here for an education. Don't leave here without it. I just won't recruit anyone who doesn't want to graduate."

A leader in the community, Fazio is active in civic enterprises, such as his annual golf tournament which has raised over $250,000 for the Leukemia Society of America since 1979. Fazio is just as likely to be found preparing Italian sausage on a local television show as he is discussing Pitt football on a radio talk show.

Fazio was born in Dawmont, W.Va., but grew up in Coraopolis, Pa., near the Greater Pittsburgh International Airport. He played for John Michelosen at Pitt.

He served as a graduate assistant at Pitt in 1962 while obtaining a Master's Degree in Education. He was a high school coach at Ambridge (1963-64) and Coraopolis (1965-66). He also served as an assistant coach at Boston University (1967), Harvard (1968), Pitt (1969-72), and Cincinnati (1973-76).

In 1977, Sherrill named him to the Pitt staff as linebacker coach before promoting him to defensive coordinator before the 1979 season. Fazio was named assistant head coach in 1979.

"I feel good about the job we have done here," says Fazio. "We feel we have done an outstanding job as a staff, and we feel we've stabilized our program. We feel we can play anyone in the country. It's great to be considered a long-term coach. I've been connected with the University of Pittsburgh for a long time. I want to work here, live here, and prosper here. I want to help bring the University as much success and glory as I can."

"We've had two outstanding recruiting classes back to back. We've got players interested in the Pitt program who are from Florida, Mississippi, Louisiana, New York, New Jersey, Massachusetts, Connecticut, Texas, Ohio, and, best of all, Pennsylvania. We have a great national image."

"When we were at the Fiesta Bowl, we spoke to Arizona prospects who want to make Pitt one of their official visits. Not only are these kids interested, but they want to come here. They know that Pitt plans to stay right up there in the national rankings. That pleases me."

"I'm very happy at Pitt. And I feel very good about the future. I want to maintain our excellence in every phase of the program. I want to do everything possible to make the University proud of its football team."

ASSISTANT COACHES

JOE MOORE

Assistant Head Coach
Offensive Coordinator
Offensive Line

The results speak loudly. Since 1980, when he took over the offensive line, Joe Moore has sent eight players on to the NFL. Russ Grimm and Mark May are members of the Washington Redskins' Hogs. Emil Boures is a spot starter for the Pittsburgh Steelers. Jimbo Covert and Rob Fada both started for the Chicago Bears last season. Jim Sweeney headed into his first pro camp as a top contender for a starting guard spot. Tony Magnelli and Ron Sams, a second-year pro, will try to land spots with the Indianapolis Colts and the Green Bay Packers, respectively.

"Joe Moore may be the best line coach in college football," says Gil Brandt of the Dallas Cowboys.

"When Joe's guys come into pro football, they're ready to play. It's a credit to somebody. You can have the best players in the world, but if somebody doesn't develop them, it doesn't do you any good."

As Coach Fazio's assistant head coach, Moore is a leader, as well as a teacher.

"Joe's well-organized out there during practice," says Coach Fazio. "He's getting a lot of things accomplished with a lot of young players. The guys on the coaching staff look up to Joe. They know if they have a problem, they can go to Joe."

Moore became a legend in Western Pennsylvania high school coaching when he compiled a 119-32-4 record over 17 years and directed Upper St. Clair High School to consecutive co-championships before joining the Pitt staff.

Moore is a product of Schenley High School, located just a few blocks from the Pitt campus, and is a 1958 graduate of Penn State. He received his Master's Degree in counseling from Gannon College.

COACHING EXPERIENCE: HIGH SCHOOL — Richfield Springs, N.Y., 1959-60; Towanda, Pa., 1961-62; McDowell (Erie), 1963-71; Upper St. Clair, 1972-75. COLLEGE — joined Pitt staff in December 1976.

PERSONAL INFORMATION: Date of Birth: 2/19/32. Hometown: Pittsburgh, Pa. Alma Mater: Penn State '58. Married to the former Frances Gaskil and father of Joe (24), John (22), James (17) and grandfather of John Patrick.

BOB JUNKO

Defensive Coordinator
Linebackers

After one season, Bob Junko has proven that he is more than capable of maintaining the tradition of great defense at the University of Pittsburgh. That tradition began under then-defensive coordinator Foge Fazio, and it continues today.

Over the past five years, the Pitt defense has been the best in the country against the run and in total defense and ranks just behind Nebraska in scoring defense.

With a group of young and talented players, Junko molded the number eight defense in the country in '83. Linebackers Troy Benson, a 1984 All-America candidate, and Caesar Aldisert were the top two tacklers on the team. Fellow linebacker Steve Apke started his first game in the Fiesta Bowl and sparked Junko will have his work cut out for him this year as he attempts to find replacements for Bill Maas, Al Wenglikowski, Troy Hill, and Tom Flynn.

"Coach Junko is an old-fashioned defensive coach," says Flynn, a draft pick and potential starter for the Green Bay Packers. "He likes to yell and scream. Coach Fazio was like that once in awhile when he had the defense. He's the kind of coach who knows how to get everything going."

"It's never boring when he's out there. And every little detail has to be perfect, all the way from breaking the huddle to breaking on the ball."

"Bob is an excellent teacher," says Coach Fazio. "He's enthusiastic, loyal to the program, and a fine recruiter. The players respond to him very well."

Junko, a graduate of the University of Tulsa, was an All State player at Trinity High School in nearby Washington, Pa.

COACHING EXPERIENCE: COLLEGE — University of Tulsa, graduate assistant — 1968, freshman coach — 1969, linebacker coach — 1970-74, defensive coordinator — 1975-76; Texas Christian University, defensive coordinator — 1977-82, assistant head coach — 1979-82.

PERSONAL INFORMATION: Date of Birth: 7/4/46. Hometown: Washington, Pa. Alma Mater: University of Tulsa '68. Married to the former Judy Goodell and father of Jeff (12), Mike (10), and Jay (4).

DINO FOLINO

Defensive Backs

Tim Lewis, Tommy Flynn, Troy Hill, Neal Colzie, Tim Fox, Tim Luke, Ray Griffin.

All fine defensive backs. All coached by Dino Folino. What else needs to be said? It's not hard to figure out that Folino is a terrific coach.

"I hope," says Folino, "that I didn't leave my trademark on those guys. I hope they left their trademarks on me. As a coach, you learn more from the kids you coach."

"The good ones, they don't need much coaching. If you find a great player, you try to teach what he does well to others."

No doubt Folino has had some great players, and another sure bet is that he is one heckuva coach.

Although relatively young, Folino has a wealth of experience at the college level. Before coming to Pitt four years ago, he coached at Cincinnati, New Hampshire, and Ohio State (where he was a graduate assistant to the legendary Woody Hayes).

A native of Pittsburgh, Folino won All-Catholic honors at Central Catholic High School before heading to Villanova.

Folino and his wife, the former Anita Bigatel, have six children, yet he manages to remain active in his community.

The Folinos' fifth child, Ellen, was born in Dallas while the Panthers were preparing for the '83 Cotton Bowl. John Daniel, born this past spring, is the most recent addition to the Folino family.

COACHING EXPERIENCE: HIGH SCHOOL — Bishop Kendrick High School, 1971-72, defensive coordinator; Central Catholic High School, 1972-74, defensive coordinator. COLLEGE — Ohio State, 1974-76, graduate assistant; University of New Hampshire, 1976, defensive backfield coach; University of Cincinnati, 1976-80, defensive backfield coach.

PERSONAL INFORMATION: Date of Birth: 9/19/49. Alma Mater: Villanova University '71. Married to the former Anita Bigatel and the father of six children — Anthony (12), Alyse (11), Ann (8), Charles (4), Ellen (2), and John (1).

GRADUATE ASSISTANTS

Curt Cignetti

Hal Hunter

Charles "Yogi" Jones

They could probably best be described as the assistants' assistants." These are the young men who have chosen to work as coaches understudies while working towards graduate degrees. Coach Fazio's graduate assistant staff for the 1984 season will include Curt Cignetti, Hal Hunter and Charles "Yogi" Jones. All three were grad assistants last season, and they are back to learn more about coaching, as well as continue their education.

CURT CIGNETTI is a former West Virginia player, and his father Frank, former WVU head coach and Pitt assistant, is the athletic director at Indiana University of Pennsylvania.

HAL HUNTER from nearby Belle Vernon, is a graduate of Northwestern University and his father Hal Hunter Sr. played linebacker for Pitt during the 1951-55 seasons and was captain of the 1956 Sugar Bowl squad.

YOGI JONES is a former Pitt linebacker from Ringgold High School in Dorado. He led Pitt in tackles during his senior season in 1982.

Each graduate assistant is reimbursed his school tuition. The cost of books, meals and other expenses are to be paid through the assistant's own resources.

Says Hunter who is working on his Master's Degree in Communications and Rhetoric, "I plan on staying in coaching, but I'm going to school in case five or ten years down the line I'm forced out or I want to get out of coaching. I've got something to fall back on. I want all my ~~resources~~ resources."

"I want to do a good job coaching," says Jones "so I try to spend some time learning it. It's important to me because if I find that I like it, I might try becoming a coach after I finish college."

Rick Dukovich, a former Pitt player and a graduate assistant last year, is beginning his second year in Pitt's School of Dental Medicine. Says Dukovich, "The graduate assistant program is part scholarship, part job. The money I earned coaching at Pitt was used towards my education. I earned at least fifty percent of the maximum dental course load and spent a predetermined amount of time as a coaching assistant. My grade requirements were the same as any first-year dental student."

1984 OUTLOOK

"No 4-7 Predictions for '84"

Heading into the 1983 season, there was no talk of a national championship, no talk of an undefeated season, and to some there was little hope for a winning season.

Although neither Foge Fazio, University of Pittsburgh head football coach, nor his players were among the doubters a year ago, they heard the whispers of what '83 would be like. The Panthers were picked to finish 4-7 by Anson Mount in Playboy Magazine. Despite the predictions of failure, Fazio and his squad turned in an 8-3-1 record last season and earned a bid to play in the Fiesta Bowl on January 2.

But this is 1984, and things have changed. The expectations of success will once again follow the Panthers through the season.

"This year, no one's going to pick us 4-7," says All America tackle El Fratic, who will receive Heisman Trophy Outland Trophy, and Lombardi Award consideration this year. "We could be awesome."

The Panthers attracted attention in the preseason polls. They were ranked in the top five in most polls. Fazio's 1982 squad, under a similar situation after it was picked as the top team in the country in first preseason polls. The 1982 team, Fazio's first, finished 9-3. Fazio believes that experience two years ago will help him prepare this year's team for the added attention it will receive.

"No matter how mature, no matter how street-smart you think your squad is, they're still naive, susceptible to a lot of pressures. They might not think are going to be there," says Fazio. "It's a case of you have to win, you have to win. This is a big game, this is a million dollar game, you're not playing up to your potential. These things eat away at a kid, they eat away at a team."

"We have in a few occasions when the media will have accessibility to us. We've always been very open and it always went the way we have to get that out of the way, though, and go about our business. I hope to handle that a little better this year."

Fazio has 45 returnees returning from last year's squad. Included in the number are eight offensive starters and six defensive starters. Experience, an element that was missing last year, is something Fazio has on his side as he prepares for a 1984 schedule that is as tough as any in the country. However, young players will be counted on to take over at several key positions — free safety, center, tailback, flanker, and left cornerback.

"I think as a unit defensively we can be good," says Fazio, who has a 17-6-1 record in his first two seasons, "but maybe not as dominating as we have been. The consistency will have to come quickly because of our schedule. We will have to mature rapidly and be ready for the tough early season schedule."

Offensively, we have much more certainty at the quarterback position than we did a year ago, and we feel pretty good about that unit."

Position by position, the 1984 Pitt football team shapes up like this:

OFFENSE

Split End — Bill Wallace returns for his senior season after having caught 45 passes for 727 yards and eight touchdowns as a junior. Wallace closed out last season with a flourish by catching 10 passes for 173 yards and three touchdowns against Penn State and catching eight more passes for 91 yards in the Fiesta Bowl against Ohio State. He will be backed up by three-year letterman Jeff Casper, who caught six passes for 88 yards, including two for 41 yards in a standout performance in the Fiesta Bowl.

Flanker — Sophomore Dwayne Milloy had a terrific spring. He showed that he has the ability to play, and he may be the player who takes Dwight Collins' place. Collins holds school career records for pass receiving yardage and touchdown receptions, so his shoes will not be easily filled. Back with Milloy, who was the most improved offensive player in spring drills, are sophomore Malt Siennett, who caught 13 passes for 139 yards last season, and senior Darryl Clark (two receptions for 20 yards in '83). Casper could also be playing time at flanker.

"We have people who can catch the football, but we don't have a deep threat like we did with Dwight," says Fazio. "Dwayne could provide the deep threat we are looking for."

Offensive Line — Four of last year's five starting linemen are back, led by Fratic, Pitt's consensus All America tackle and one of this year's tri-captains. Gone is center Jim Sweeney, a second-round pick of the New York Jets. Fratic, of course, held down the left tackle spot last season and finished among the finalists for the Outland and Lombardi awards. In addition to finishing eighth in the Heisman balloting, junior Tony Brown started every game at right tackle, and he will face a stiff challenge from sophomore Randy Dixon. Juniors Bob Brown (right guard) and Mike Dorundo (left guard) got the majority of work at their respective positions. Senior Greg Christy enters fall camp ahead of Dorundo. Junior Barry Pettyjohn will take Sweeney's center position. Redshirt freshman Ed Miller will back up Pettyjohn, as will senior walkon Don Cherry, who had a good spring practice.

"The offensive line could be just as good or better than last year's, but it will be tough because of the loss of Jim Sweeney. You have to be strong up the middle. We will have more depth in the line — Randy Dixon has proven himself, and Greg Christy, if he stays healthy, could be pretty good."

Tight End — Seniors Clint Wilson and Tom Johnson shared the position much of the time last year, and both are back. Wilson (21 catches for 218 yards and two touchdowns) was the starter while Johnson came on when Fazio needed extra blocking. Johnson did not catch a pass, but sophomore Pat Schipani, who missed spring drills while recovering from a knee injury, caught three passes for 27 yards. Senior Dexter Edmonds, who played sparingly last season, moved ahead of Schipani on the depth chart during spring drills.

"Curt Wilson had an up and down year, but he has worked hard and is up to 230 pounds," says Fazio. "Tom Johnson is a very good blocker."

Fullback — Fazio is blessed with as much depth at this position as any other on the field. Seniors Marc Bailey (86 carries for 451 yards) and Marion McIntyre (82 carries for 414 yards) alternated last year and both are back. Also back is sophomore Tom Brown. Senior Bill Beach looked good in spring drills after redshirting last season with a shoulder injury. Bailey's yardage included two 45-yard runs against Navy while he and McIntyre averaged 5.2 and 5.0 yards per carry, respectively.

Tailback — Fazio was short-handed at this position during the spring. Chuck Scales, who rushed for 210 yards on 52 carries in '83, was the only healthy experienced tailback. Sophomore Billy Owens (14 carries for 118 yards) injured a knee during the spring, and sophomore Brian Davis's practice time was limited because of injuries. Joe McCall is gone, but a replacement should come from among the group of Scales, Owens, and the four talented incoming freshmen — Craig Heyward, Charles Gladman, Anthony Brown, and Ezekiel Gadson. Scales was much-improved during the spring and has added weight to go along with natural speed he possesses.

"We have some great running back talent," says Fazio. "Scales is the only experienced tailback since Darnell Brown has been switched to defensive back. But just think of all the speed we'll have with Scales, Heyward, Gladman, Brown, and Gadson. I can't wait."

Quarterbacks — Junior John Congemi "proved he can get the job done," says Fazio. Congemi, who replaced John Cummings after last year's season-opening Tennessee game, completed 170 of 288 passes for 1,940 yards and 15 touchdowns last season. He set Fiesta Bowl records for completions (31) and total offense (351 yards). Cummings, who broke his collarbone on Pitt's final offensive play against Tennessee, received a redshirt and played well during the spring. Chris Jelic, who played the entire second half in the win at Notre Dame, missed spring drills while playing on the Pitt baseball team. Jelic completed nine of 17 passes for 121 yards and a touchdown last season, while Cummings was nine of 18 for 110 yards and a touchdown against Tennessee.

DEFENSE

End — Senior All-America candidate Chris Doleman, a tri-captain, is back and he has been spectacular at times during his career. Al Wenglikowski, the other starter in '83, has moved on to pro ball. Doleman had 100 tackles and six sacks last season. "Chris has the potential to have a Rickey Jackson-type season," says Fazio. "He is much more mature now and at the end of the year he was playing much more consistently." Junior Bob Schilken has been switched from middle guard to Wenglikowski's old spot, and the spring practice was a learning experience for him. Sophomore Tony Woods, who missed spring drills while recovering from an ankle injury, and senior Bill Sapio, who was out during the spring with a shoulder injury, will see time at both spots, as will sophomore letterman Tom Crawford.

Line — Senior Tim Quense and junior Bob Buczkowski shared time at the left tackle spot early last season, while Quense started the second half of the year. Both are back, while sophomore Lorenzo Freeman and freshman Jon Carter will battle for Bill Maas's old spot. Maas was a first round pick of the Kansas City Chiefs. Senior Dennis Aliyeh, who started at times last year and sophomore Walter Johnson will fight for the middle guard job. Redshirt freshman Chuck Williams, who injured a knee early in spring drills, will attempt to come back and get some time with Freeman and Carter, who had a good spring after graduating early from high school.

Linebacker — Pitt's top two tacklers from '83 are back in the senior linebacking pair of Troy Benson and Caesar Aidisert. Benson, an All-America candidate and tri-captain, led the Panthers with 162 tackles. Aidisert, who will be challenged by sophomore Steve Apke, recorded 146 tackles.

"Troy Benson and Caesar Aidisert are both outstanding linebackers," says Fazio. "I don't think there is a better pair of linebackers in the East and as we said before, these will have a hard time being the best pair of linebackers we've ever had here at Pitt."

Apke, who started the Fiesta Bowl when Aidisert was out with an injured knee, is a player "I can feel comfortable with in there," says Fazio. Apke had such a good spring that he was named the most improved defensive player on the team. Sophomore Lee Harrison, junior Brian Sniels, and freshman Jeff Strickley and Matt Lavigne are all talented but inexperienced backups.

Secondary — Fazio must replace three of the four starters from '83. Free safety Tom Flynn and left cornerback Troy Hill have moved on to pro ball. Starting strong safety Ray Weatherspoon has graduated. Senior Melvin Dean, who broke up a team-high 15 passes and recorded 57 tackles, is back at the right corner. Junior Bill Callahan, who shared starting time at strong safety with Weatherspoon, has been switched to free safety to replace Flynn. Callahan had a good spring and looks like he may be able to handle Flynn's old spot. Sophomores Keith Tinsley and Reggie Smith are the leading candidates to take over as left cornerback and strong safety respectively. Junior John Lewis, who gained experience in '82, missed last season because he was academically ineligible. He practiced the second half of spring drills and will challenge Tinsley.

"The big thing is to find a free safety," says Fazio. "Bill Callahan had a good spring, and he's been a good solid player for us for two years. Reggie Smith is a good athlete and we have to find a spot for him. Keith Tinsley played a lot last year, and he will contribute. Teryl Austin reminds me of Jo Jo Heath, and he can play. Bill McCormick played on special teams and behind Flynn last year, so he has some experience."

Kickers — Placekicker Eric Schubert and punter Tony Recchia have to be replaced. Junior Chris Jelic is "a major college punter," according to Fazio. Sophomore Vince Trombetta handled the punting during the spring while Jelic was playing for the Pitt baseball team. Trombetta had a tough spring, and Fazio will look hard during fall camp for a punter. There are several incoming freshmen with punting experience. Senior Snuffy Everett and sophomore Pat Viancourt, who won the Syracuse game with a 43-yard field goal, shared the kicking duties when Schubert was injured last season. They will be joined in the placekicking battle by sophomore Joe Wall. Freshman Mark Brasco, who holds several Pennsylvania high school kicking records, will also compete for the job.

NOTES ON THE 1984 PANTHERS

Fogge Fazio's 17-6-1 two-year record is the same as that of his predecessor Jackie Sherrill, after his first two seasons. Seventeen victories is the most compiled by any coach in his first two seasons in Pitt football history.

Pitt will be looking for its 12th straight winning season. The Panthers had eight consecutive winning years from 1904-1911 and 27 straight from 1913-1939 under Pop Warner, Jack Sutherland and Charles Bowser. Since the modern era in Pitt's winning tradition began in 1973, the Panthers are 100-28-3 (.783), 47-8-1 (.825) at home and 47-17-2 (.712) on the road. They have averaged better than nine victories per season since 1973. Pitt's overall record is 577-326-37.

The Panthers have now won eight or more games in nine consecutive seasons, an all-time Pitt record. That mark includes the 33 victories from 1979-1981. The Panthers have been ranked in the wire services' final Top Ten six of the past eight years.

Since he took over the offensive line in 1980, assistant coach Joe Moore has sent six players on to the NFL. Four of those six players are now starters in the pros. In 1981 Russ Grimm and Mark May were drafted by the Washington Redskins and both are starting "Hogs." Jimbo Covert and Rob Fada went to the Chicago Bears in the '83 draft and each earned a starting spot last year. Ernie Boufford was drafted by the Pittsburgh Steelers in 1982, and he has been a spot starter in his first two seasons, while Ron Sams, a 1983 draft pick of the Green Bay Packers, is the other lineman to move from Pitt to the pros. From last year's squad, center Jim Sweeney was a second-round pick of the New York Jets, while his backup, Tony Magnath, has signed with the Indianapolis Colts as a free agent.

Of the 22 players who started for Pitt in the Fiesta Bowl, 14 will be back for the season-opener against Brigham Young in Pitt Stadium on September 1.

Pitt has now appeared in bowl games 10 of the last 11 seasons. 1973 — Fiesta Bowl, 1975 — Sun Bowl, 1976 — Sugar Bowl, 1977 — Gator Bowl, 1978 — Tangerine Bowl, 1979 — Fiesta Bowl, 1980 — Gator Bowl, 1981 — Sugar Bowl, 1982 — Cotton Bowl, and 1983 — Fiesta Bowl. Pitt has won six of its last nine bowl games.

Last year marked the second highest average attendance in Pitt history. For their five home games, the Panthers averaged 51,485 fans, second only to the 1982 average of 54,618.

Pitt has had at least one first team All-America selection each of the last 11 years: 1973 — Tony Dorsett, 1974 — Tony Dorsett, Gary Burley; 1975 — Tony Dorsett; 1976 — Tony Dorsett, Al Romano; 1977 — Matt Cavanaugh, Randy Holloway, Bob Jury, Tom Brzozka, 1978 — Hugh Green, Gordon Jones, 1979 — Hugh Green, 1980 — Hugh Green, Mark May, 1981 — Dan Marino, Sal Sunseri, Jimbo Covert, Julius Dawkins, 1982 — Bill Fralic, Jimbo Covert, Bill Maas, 1983 — Bill Fralic.

Pitt has produced seven first round NFL draft choices since 1981. In that year Hugh Green (Tampa Bay), Mark May (Washington), and Randy McMillan (Baltimore) were number one picks. In the first round of the 1983 draft Green Bay chose Tim Lewis. Chicago picked Jimbo Covert, and Miami selected Dan Marino. Bill Maas maintained the tradition when the Kansas City Chiefs made him their first pick in the '84 draft.

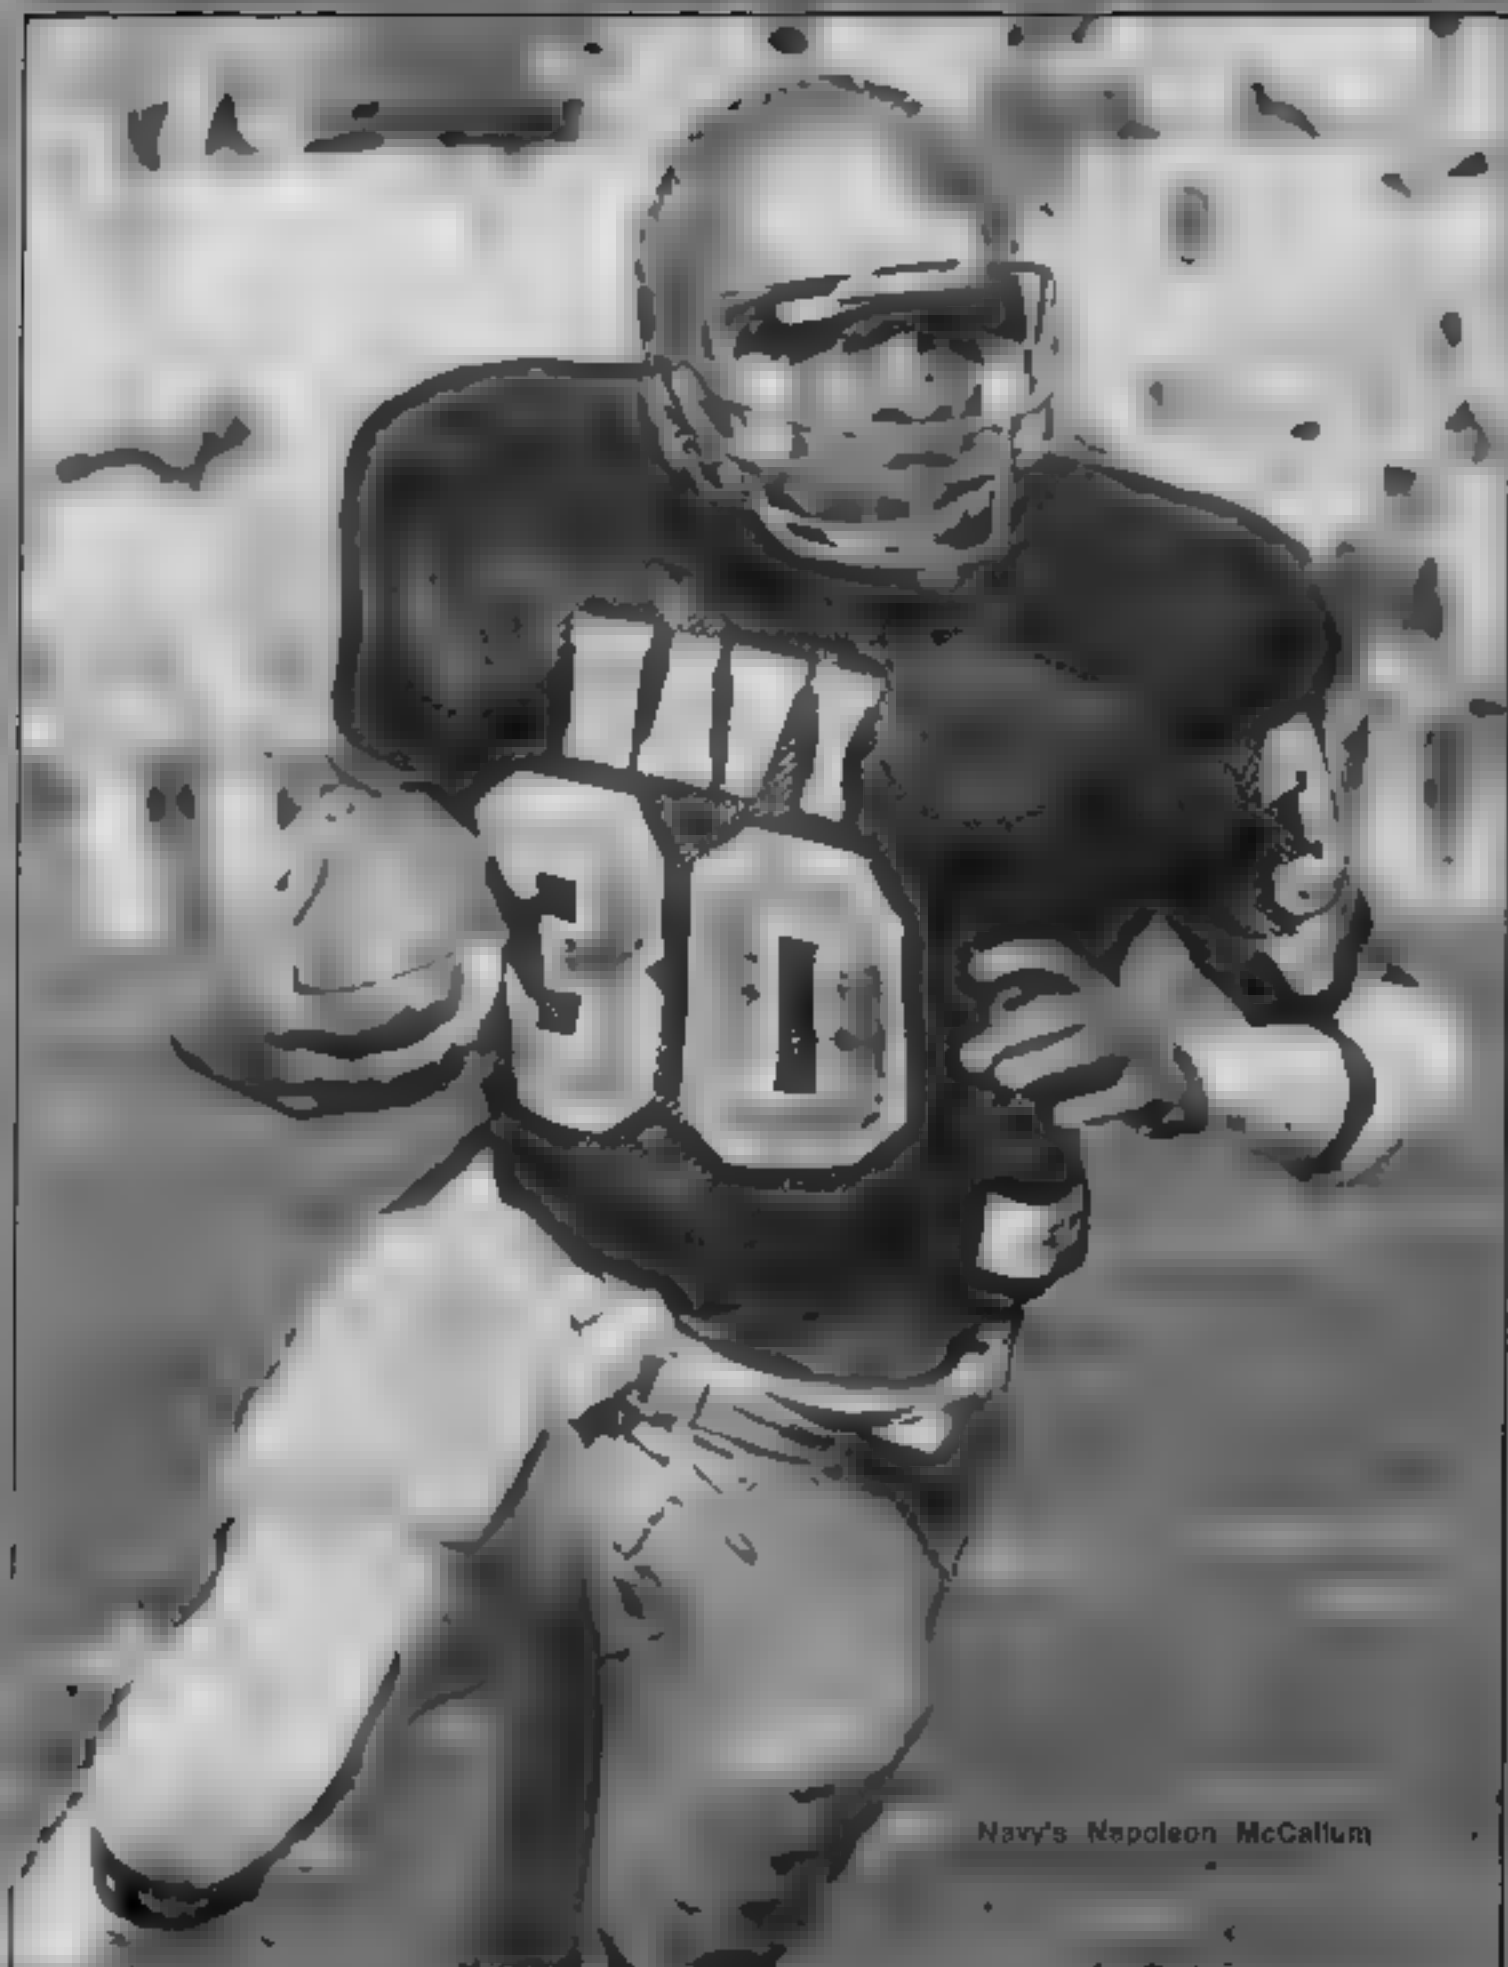

According to the NCAA statistics, which do not include bowl games, Pitt is tied with Georgia for the third-best winning percentage in the country over the last five years with a record of 47-7-1 (.855). Nebraska is first with a 51-6 (.895) mark, and Brigham Young, Pitt's first opponent of '84, ranks second at 50-7 (.877).

The Pitt defense has been a force over the last five years (1979-1983). During that span, the Panthers rank first nationally in rushing defense and total defense. Pitt has given up just 89.2 yards/game on the ground, far ahead of Virginia Tech's average of 106.8, in total defense. Pitt has allowed just 232.7 yards per game, while Texas, with an average of 239.1 yards/game, is second. Over the past five years Pitt ranks second in scoring defense, allowing just 11.6 ppg. Nebraska is first with an 11.3 average.

The Panther offense was at its best in the second and fourth quarters last season. In the second period Pitt scored 92 points, or more than a point a quarter for that. The defensive unit was at its best in the third quarter as it allowed just 16 points during that quarter all year.

With only one season under his belt, unheralded quarterback John Congemi has already made an impression on the Pitt record book. Against Ohio State in the Fiesta Bowl, he completed 31 of 44 passes for 341 yards, two touchdowns and two interceptions. His 31 completions and 361 yards in total offense are Fiesta Bowl records and helped him earn the game's most valuable offensive player award. Congemi's 341 yard effort is the sixth-best single game passing performance in the school's history. For the 1983 season, Congemi passed for 1,940 yards, the third-best single season effort ever by a Pitt quarterback. Dan Marino passed for 2,876 yards in 1981 and 2,432 yards in 1982. With two seasons remaining in his Pitt career, Congemi is already eighth on the Pitt list for passing yardage in a career.

Senior inside linebacker Troy Benson, an All-America candidate, finished the '83 season with a team-high 162 tackles and four interceptions, also a team high.

B I L L F R A L I C C I 5'10 1/2 Penn Hills, Pa.
 Fralic is considered by many to be a top candidate for the Heisman Trophy, the Lombardi Trophy and the Outland Award. As a junior, he was the only underclassman to be among the four finalists for the Lombardi. He also finished eighth in the Heisman balloting and was a top contender for the Outland. He is a two-time All-American and was a consensus All-American a year ago. He has a chance to become the first interior lineman to ever win the Heisman. The last lineman to win the award was Notre Dame end Leon Hart in 1949. Hart was a native of Turtle Creek, Pa., which is a stone's throw away from Fralic's hometown of Penn Hills. Fralic was the first freshman since Tony Dorsett in 1973 to start his first collegiate game as a Panther. He has made every preseason All-America team and was the coverboy of The Sporting News eastern preseason edition. Says Coach Fazlo: "Bill's one of the greatest players at his position in the history of college football. You can take a Tony Dorsett at his position or a Hugh Green at his position. Bill Fralic at his position is in the same category." Says Fralic: "I'm going to have a shot at the Heisman, we are going to have a good year as a team. If we're 6-4 this year, I don't have a chance. It would be a nice award because it would focus attention on all linemen, and especially the linemen that have been here that have played for Joe Moore. We want to win a national championship because we've come so close." Bill Davis, personnel director for the Cleveland Browns, says Fralic is "the best there has ever been at that position. TENNESSEE

KNOXVILLE, TN (September 3) — Many people expected the young Panthers to fall apart in front of 90,000+ orange and white volunteer fans who rocked Neyland Stadium. For a while it looked like these Tennessee fans would get a chance to celebrate an opening victory over the Panthers from the North. The Pitt offense could not get untracked in the first half and ended the half without a single first down. The defense was as strong as ever, though. Time after time Tennessee was able to mount drives, only to be turned back by the Panthers. Just when they smothered the score in the second half, the offense awoke in a hurry with first downs after John Cummings connecting with flanker Dwight Collins on a 56-yard scoring strike.

TEMPLE

PITT 35 — TEMPLE 0

PITTSBURGH, PA (September 10) — John Congemi, who had never thrown a pass in a varsity game, came through for the Panthers in a big way in the 35-0 win over Temple. Congemi, filling in for the injured John Cummings, completed 16 of 23 passes for 177 yards and one touchdown as Pitt raised its record to 2-0. Congemi wasn't the only star of the game, however. The tempo at the end of the game time was 113 degrees, but the Pitt defense was even hotter. Everything that the Temple offense showed them was snuffed out, as the Panthers totally dominated every aspect of the game.

COLLEGE PARK, MD (September 24) — The undefeated Panthers traveled to Byrd Stadium and came away losers in a game in which they had opportunities to win. For the third straight game, the defense was spectacular. Maryland managed only two field goals on the Pitt defense, but the Terps blocked a punt and returned it for a touchdown in the second quarter. This proved to be one of two big plays which made winners of the Terps.

Pitt made a dramatic effort to erase a 13-7 deficit in its final drive of the game. Running behind awesome Bill Falcin on 11 straight plays, Pitt drove the ball from its own 37 to the Maryland seven-yard line. This is where the second big play of the game occurred. Trying to pick the ball outside on an option play, quarterback John Congemi fumbled and Maryland recovered to preserve the 13-7 victory.

WEST VIRGINIA 24 — PITT 21

MORGANTOWN, WV (October 1) — Pitt layed down Interstate 79 for its annual backyard brawl with the Mountaineers. West Virginia scored the first time it had the ball, but the Panthers stormed back to lead the game 14-7. The key play in the Panthers' comeback was Tim Quense picking off a Jeff Hostetler fumble in mid-air and romping 75 yards for a touchdown. After three quarters Pitt held a 21-17 lead, but West Virginia's offense shifted into high gear in the fourth quarter. The WVU offense was able to go 90 yards on 14 plays against Pitt's defense, and the Mountaineers celebrated their first win over the Panthers since 1972.

FLORIDA STATE

PITT 17 — FLORIDA STATE 16

GAME 5

PITTSBURGH, PA (October 8) — The Panthers returned to the friendly confines of Pitt Stadium to face the high-powered offense of the Florida State Seminoles. Early in the game, it looked as if the Seminoles would have the way with the Panthers as they opened up a 13-0 lead. But the Panther defense overwhelmed the Florida State offense for the last 2½ quarters while the Panther offense started to move the ball. Joe McCall's 96 yards on the ground and John Congemi's 202 yards passing highlighted the offense, while Troy Hill and Caesar Aldert led an outstanding effort by the defense.

GAME 6

LOUISVILLE, KY (October 15) — Pitt dismantled the Cardinals of Louisville to improve their record to 4-2 on the season. Almost every member of the traveling squad got into the action as the Panthers put the most points on the scoreboard since they played these same Cards in 1982 and came away with a 63-4 victory. The Panthers piled up 284 yards rushing with Joe McCall's 96 leading the way. On defense, Caesar Aldert picked off two interceptions within one minute of each other, and Reggie Smith returned a blocked punt 28 yards.

NAVY GAME 7

PITT 21 — NAVY 14

ANNAPOLIS, MD (October 22) — The underdog M dshipmen threw a scare into the Panthers, but their gallant effort fell just short of a huge upset. The usually reliable Pitt defense allowed tailback Napoleon McCa lumb 172 yards rushing on 38 attempts. For the Panthers, fullback Marc Bailey enjoyed the finest game of his career, picking up 142 yards and breaking two runs of 45 yards. Although Pitt had to feel good about escaping with a seven-point win over the feisty M dds.

SYRACUSE GAME 8

PITT 13 — SYRACUSE 10

PITTSBURGH, PA (October 29) — Lady Luck was looking over the Panthers' shoulder in this eastern battle against Syracuse. Just when it looked like the Panthers' major bowl hopes might go down the drain, they miraculously snatched victory from the jaws of defeat. With one minute to play, Syracuse decided to throw the ball instead of running out the clock. Quarterback Greg Christodoulou's pass was picked off by Troy Benson and the Panthers had a chance to pull the game out. Three plays later, freshman walk-on Pat Vancourt, who was substituting for injured starter Eric Schubert, split the uprights on a 43-yard field goal to give Pitt a dramatic 13-10 win.

GAME 9

SOUTH BEND, IN (November 5) — Representatives from many important bowls were on hand to see the Panthers dominate Notre Dame on the home turf of the Irish. The Panthers controlled both sides of the line of scrimmage and grabbed a 14-0 first half lead and never looked back. Everything that the Irish tried was snuffed out as the Panthers improved the record to 7-2 on the year. Troy Benson swapped two passes for Pitt and was named player of the game along with All-America offensive tackle Bill Fraich.

GAME 10

PITT 38 — ARMY 7

PITTSBURGH, PA (November 12) — Awesome is the only way to describe Pitt's performance against Army. The defense held the Cadets to 11 first downs, and the Pitt offense put on quite a show. Senior tailback Joe McCaig rambled for the fifth best single-game rushing total in Pitt history — 246 yards. The offensive line of Bill Fraich, Jim Sweeney, Barry Pettyjohn, Tony Brown, and Mike Dorundo opened gaping holes throughout the day. On the defensive side of the line of scrimmage, most of the starters were removed early in the game so everybody could join in the fun.

PENN STATE

PITT 24 — PENN STATE 24

GAME 11

PITTSBURGH, PA. November 19) — For the first time in a long time this annual battle was just for fun. Penn State brought an uncharacteristic 7-4 record into the game, while the Panthers were riding a six-game winning streak and owned an 8-2 mark. On a last-second Nick Gancitano field goal from 32 yards out, the Nittany Lions pulled out a tie, a frustrating ending, or such a hotly contested game. Gancitano's field goal overshadowed a superb performance by Pitt running back and B Wallace, who caught 10 passes on the day for 173 yards and three touchdowns. Wallace's final TD came with 1:15 left in the game and looked like the game-winner, but the Lions moved from the own 16 yard line to Gancitano's field goal.

GAME 12

THE FIESTA BOWL

TEMPE, AZ. January 1, 1984) — The Fiesta Bowl committee got just what it bargained for in this game. The Buckeyes and the Panthers combined for 897 total yards in an offensive exhibition which was not decided until Mike Tomczak hit Chad Jemison with a 39-yard touchdown pass with just 39 seconds to play.

The game was one of the most exciting of all the 1983-84 bowl games, as each team moved up and down the field all afternoon. The excitement reached its height when Pitt and the Buckeyes combined for 30 fourth-quarter points.

John Congemi had the finest game of his young career, as he connected on 3 of 44 passes for 341 yards and two touchdowns while setting Fiesta Bowl records for pass completions and total yards. Dwight Collins became Pitt's top receiver of all time as he caught seven passes for 72 yards and a touchdown.

THE UNIVERSITY OF PITTSBURGH

Bordering the community of Oakland in the eastern section of the city, the University of Pittsburgh has grown to new heights both in the academic world and on the athletic field as it approaches its bicentennial in 1987.

Under the leadership of Wesley Wentz Posvar, who became the University's 15th chancellor in 1987, Pitt has experienced a period of extraordinary growth. Through teaching and research the University meets a local, national and international public-service mission. Several units of the University provide expertise to government agencies, citizens groups, and others concerned with solving societal problems.

While enrollment increased during the 1970s, University facilities expanded. The Pittsburgh campus consists of 55 buildings on 26 acres of land, at the center of which is the Cathedral of Learning, a historic landmark and, at 42 stories, the tallest educational building in the country. Other structural highlights on the campus include the award-winning Chemistry Building and Hillman Library, the latter housing more than 3,700,000 volumes.

The University also extends to other sections of Western Pennsylvania with its four regional campuses in Greensburg, Johnstown, Bradford and Titusville. The Pittsburgh campus is a complex of 18 schools, 97 departments and 23 special centers.

The University has continued to increase in national and international stature, annually attracting more than $80 million in sponsored research and programs. In 1974 Pitt was elected to membership in the Association of American Universities, a select organization of the nation's most respected graduate and research programs.

Pitt has been the site of many scientific achievements. Jonas Salk in 1953 developed and tested the Salk polio vaccine. Klaus Hoffmann synthesized the hormone ACTH in 1961. In 1964 Penayotis Katsouranis developed synthetic insulin. In 1975 Pitt anthropologist James Adovasio began an archaeological dig just south of Pittsburgh, which is the oldest verified site of continuous human occupation in the Western Hemisphere. William Casady, who in 1977 discovered the largest meteorite ever found in Antarctica, was the first scientist to predict the location of meteorite. Charles Brimmon's research team in 1977 developed vaccines against three major bacterial diseases: gonorrhea, diarrhea, and Pseudomonas aeruginosa infection.

The University of Pittsburgh's six Schools of the Health Sciences have affiliations with the members of the University Health Center of Pittsburgh, which was formed in 1986. The members include five major hospitals adjacent to the University. The University's Schools of the Health Sciences and the University Health Center of Pittsburgh form one of the outstanding centers in the country for high quality patient care through health education, research, and services.

At the University of Pittsburgh, there is an education to be had outside as well as inside the classroom. A New York sports writer once said there are more fascinating characters per square inch in Oakland than any other community he had ever visited in his work. He is among those who fondly recall the games at Forbes Field and those who have grown up with football games at Pitt Stadium.

Sports heroes have always enjoyed a special prominence in Oakland. Pitt, the Pirates, and the Steelers are just some of the teams that have turned Oakland upside down on so many occasions.

There is a special pride in Pittsburgh these days, and the University of Pittsburgh and Oakland have contributed to that pride.

Pittsburgh is a city on the move. It has been lifted to the first rank of American cities with the second phase of its development—Renaissance II. Recently completed office towers scrape the skies downtown, while a rapid transit system is being readied for its debut.

The breathtaking growth has brought fame to Pittsburgh's Golden Triangle, the picturesque downtown hub sits at the juncture of the Monongahela, Allegheny and Ohio rivers. The downtown area covers only a half square mile, yet Pittsburgh is headquarters for 23 major corporations, the third largest headquarters city in the country, and has been rated among the most livable cities in the nation.

Head Football Coach Foge Fazio with
Director of Athletics Dr. Edward E. Bozik

DR. EDWARD E. BOZIK, DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS

Dr. Edward E. Bozik, a man with broad management and administrative experience in both athletics and academics, became the Director of Athletics at the University of Pittsburgh on September 1, 1982.

In his past two years as athletics director, Dr. Bozik has responded to the initial guidance provided by Chancellor Wesley Posvar. Improved academic performances of all student athletes was the first priority, and the resources and effort dedicated to that area have paid substantial dividends. The football and men's basketball teams continued to build upon past successes, and other varsity sports for men and women began the advance to championship calibre with Big East Championships in women's volleyball in 1982 and in men's and women's swimming in 1983 and again in 1984. Pitt's track and field team gained new respect and produced the first NCAA outdoor champion since 1956 when Roger Kingdom won the 110-meter high hurdles. Kingdom duplicated his NCAA championship dur-

DR. WESLEY W. POSVAR, CHANCELLOR

When Dr. Posvar was named Chancellor of the University of Pittsburgh in June, 1967, the University already boasted a treasured academic and athletic tradition.

Dr. Posvar has further enhanced the University's national and international reputation—both academically and athletically.

In the same symbolic manner in which the Cathedral of Learning stands tall against the graceful Oakland skyline, Pitt excels as an athletic power. In 1976 the Pitt football team won the National Championship to become the sixth autumn leader in National Collegiate Football Championships. Attesting to its academic excellence, the University is a member of the Association of American Universities (AAU), a select organization of the nation's most respected graduate and research universities. Both of these achievements underscore the university's continuing quest for excellence in both academics and athletics.

A former college athlete who believes a strong athletic program should complement a high-quality academic experience, Dr. Posvar has earned the reputation as "Pitt's #1 Sport's Fan."

Born in Topeka, Kansas, Dr. Posvar is an engineering graduate of the United States Military Academy at West Point (class of 46) where he graduated first in his class. A Rhodes Scholar at Oxford, he earned Master's degrees in Philosophy, Politics, and Economics. At Harvard he received an M.A. in Public Administration and a Ph.D. in Political Science. He was named one of the Ten Most Outstanding Men by the U.S. Chamber of Commerce.

Dr. Posvar served on the strategic planning staff at the Pentagon and was head of the 120-man social sciences division at the United States Air Force Academy before his appointment as Chancellor.

The chancellor is known in academic and government circles for his contributions to the theory and practice of administration, leadership of higher education, and the study of public affairs.

Dr. Posvar has also accumulated several athletic awards, among them "Sportman of the Year" by the Allegheny County Civic Sportmen Association and was the recipient of the Contribution to Amateur Athletics Award by the Pittsburgh Chapter of the National Football Foundation and Hall of Fame.

His wife sings professionally as Mildred Miller, a mezzo-soprano who is internationally acclaimed as a recording artist and Lieder singer and who was a principal artist for 23 years at the Metropolitan Opera. An active civic leader, she is the founder and Artistic Director of the Pittsburgh Opera Theater.

The Posvars have three children: Wesley, Marina, and Mark.

ing the indoor season and added a gold medal in the Pan Am Games. This past summer Kingdom represented the United States as a member of the 1964 Olympic team.

On the national scene, Dr. Bozik has been active as Chancellor Posvar's principal staff assistant in his responsibilities for the NCAA Select Committee and the American Council on Education Committee for Division I Athletics. Last year he was elected as a member of the Board of Directors of the College Football Association, and he has accepted appointments to the NCAA Financial Aid Committee and the newly created Television Planning Subcommittee.

Dr. Bozik is a native of Donora, Pa., a town well known for the many great athletes and high school teams it has produced. A 1946 graduate of Donora High School, he received his B.S. from California University of Pennsylvania in 1953 and later earned his Ph.D. in Political Science from Georgetown University.

The strong commitment to education runs throughout the Bozik family. Dr. Bozik's wife, Joan, a native of California, Pa., holds a graduate degree in speech pathology and deaf education and has taught in the field of special education in five different states. Mrs. Bozik is currently a full-time doctoral candidate at Pitt.

The Bozik children are also continuing the educational commitment. Daughter, Peggy Jo, holds undergraduate music and psychology degrees from Pitt and also is a graduate of the Pitt Law School. Son, Michael, a Notre Dame graduate, is a second-year student at the University of Pittsburgh School of Medicine. Son, Tim, another Notre Dame graduate, is employed by the Prentice-Hall Publishing Corporation.

Dr. Bozik's mother, Mrs. Ann Bozik, retired several years ago from her duties at the Scotland, Pennsylvania, School for Veterans' Children and continues to reside in her hometown of Donora.

Heavy demands both on and off the field are placed on athletes at the University of Pittsburgh. The University is known for academic excellence with a wide range of liberal arts and professional degree programs. The recent curriculum reform within the College of Arts and Sciences reaffirms this desire for excellence. As students, members of the football team must take a full schedule of classes while at the same time practicing, traveling and competing. Their sports is important but these athletes make progress toward their degree in the few years they are here at Pitt.

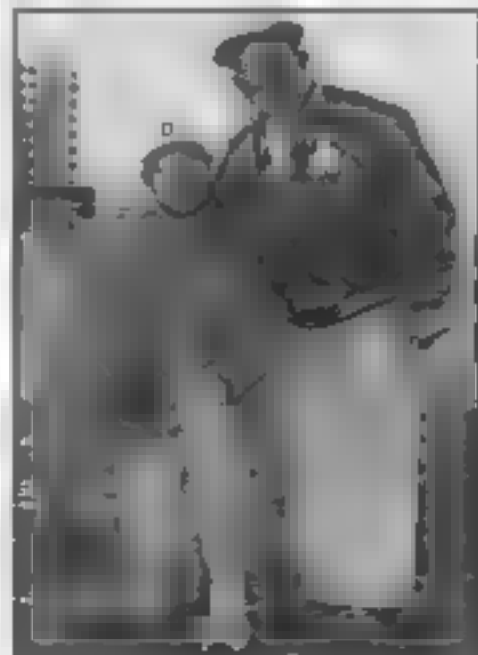

Because of this commitment to both athletics and academics, the University established the Office of Academic Services for Athletics in 1976. Today, this service is considered a model of its kind. This office exists solely to assist Pitt athletes in defining and reaching their academic goals. Many services are offered. Basic skills are assessed and an academic profile is developed. Learning and study skills are strengthened through programs coordinated through the office. Academic advising is offered as is personal and career counseling. Class performance is regularly checked, and a full tutoring service is made available for those who request it. Most importantly, the support service staff monitors the progress each athlete makes toward his degree.

The director of the Athletic Academic Services is Paul Yuna. Yuna, who has worked in the office since 1977, is a former Pitt football letterman like all the other members of the staff. He holds a Master's Degree and is currently pursuing his Ph.D. He is assisted by David Pistoles and Lloyd Weston, a former Pitt football All-America. Marlene Simpson is the administrative assistant and coordinator of day-to-day office activities. Ruth Davis is responsible for learning skills. In addition, there are two part-time advisors — Charma Dudley and Tom Price — and several tutors.

MEDICAL STAFF

The Panthers receive medical care provided by the University Division of Sports Medicine which sponsors regular sports medicine clinics at Pitt Stadium where Pitt varsity athletes are examined and treated. The opening of a new and enlarged clinic area with expanded x-ray facilities is anticipated in the near future.

Dr. Richard L. Ray serves as team physician and orthopaedic surgeon and is assisted by Dr. Freddie Fu, Dr. H. Lee Dameshek, Dr. Joe Maroon, and Dr. Joe Imbriaglia provide medical consultation for the Panther athletes. In addition, a staff of consulting specialists is available at the University of Pittsburgh School of Medicine to assist in providing top quality medical treatment to more than 500 male and female varsity athletes. Hospital care is provided at Presbyterian-University Hospital.

Prior to any practices or competition, each varsity athlete receives a comprehensive physical examination. The physical well-being of the athletes is monitored during the period of competition and training. Efforts are made to provide not only treatment for injury and illness that may occur during the season but also preventive measures which will result in participation which is as safe as possible.

To achieve these goals, the Division of Sports Medicine boasts a highly qualified staff of certified trainers. Francis Feld, who served as the Assistant Football Trainer from 1978-1982, is the Head Football Trainer. David Perrin is Head Athletic Trainer and coordinator of the athletic training education program. Rex Bell, who joined the staff in 1983, is the Assistant Football Trainer.

The University of Pittsburgh offers an N.A.T.A. approved undergraduate curriculum designed to prepare students for the certification examination. This program was established in 1975 and is offered through the School of Education, Program in Health, Physical and Recreation Education.

Dr. Richard Ray joined the Pitt staff as the team physician and orthopaedic surgeon in 1979.

His surgical residency was served at St. Presbyterian Hospital, the Medical Center in Chicago and the University of Pittsburgh. He served under a Postdoctoral Fellowship at Massachusetts General Hospital in 1977-78.

PITT RANKS 6th IN NATIONAL CHAMPIONSHIPS

Exalted, Gentle, Agonizing, Dreadful, Wonderful. These are all adjectives used to describe that holiest of grails in college football — the search for No. 1.

To settle countless arguments, Sports Illustrated in 1970 researched the first and only complete and wholly accurate list ever compiled of college football's mythical national champions. Every recognized authority that ever presumed to name a No. 1 is included. They include Parke H. Davis Ratings (1889-1935), the Helms Athletic Foundation (1889-1970), the Dickinson System (1924-1940), the Illustrated Football Annual (1924-1941), The Football Thesaurus (1927-1958), the Dunkel System (1929-1970), the Litkenhouse System (1934-1970), the Williamson System (1932-1963), the Associated Press (1936-1970), the United Press International (1950-1970), the Football Writers Association of America (1954-1970), and the National Football Hall of Fame (1959-1970).

1984 BLUE/GOLD SPRING GAME

The Blue broke open a tight game by scoring three second half touchdowns in the space of nine minutes to defeat the White in the annual spring intrasquad contest, 35-10.

After the White narrowed the Blue lead to 14-10 on a 37 yard field goal by Snuffy Everett midway through the third quarter, the Blue exploded quickly and often.

First freshman Mike Stewart was on the receiving end of a John Congemi 11-yard scoring pass. Less than one minute later, defensive lineman Jon Carter recovered a fumble in the end zone to increase the Blue lead to 28-10. A 10-yard toss from John Cummings to Clint Wilson in the fourth quarter closed out the scoring.

The backfield tandem of Chuck Scales and Marc Bailey built a 14-7 halftime lead for the Blue. Scales, the game's leading rusher with 71 yards on 13 carries, scored the first touchdown on a one yard run and Bailey added another on a 16 yard pass. The White reply was sandwiched in between as Marlon McIntyre hooked up with wide receiver Brian Polack on a 45-yard fullback option pass.

Congemi enjoyed a productive day, connecting on 17 of 23 attempts for 177 yards and a touchdown. Playing for both squads, John Cummings completed 15 of 22 attempts for 154 yards and a touchdown. B. Wallace was the game's leading receiver as he caught four passes for 84 yards.

JIM O'BRIEN

Assistant Athletic Director for Public Relations/Sports Information Director

Jim O'Brien is in his second year of promoting the athletic program at his alma mater. He is a 1964 graduate with a B.A. degree in English.

He is most proud of expanding the "hometown story" services of his department, his contribution to the 1983 Pitt football highlight film ("Dare to Dream"), developing an extensive internship program that has attracted students from as far as Florida, developing working relationships with neighboring community business people, and promoting "field trips" to the Pitt athletic facilities by area students.

O'Brien serves on the board of the Ozanam Cultural Center, the National Football Foundation, Dagger Dan Club, South Hills Pitt Club, and Pennsylvania Sports Hall of Fame, Western Chapter, and is involved with—and has gotten Pitt's coaches and athletes—more involved with fund-raising projects for area charities.

He previously worked at the Pittsburgh Press, New York Post and The Miami News. He has been editor of Street & Smith's Basketball Yearbook for 14 years, and continues to contribute to many local and national publications. He has edited two books, "Pittsburgh: The Story of the City of Champions," and "Hail to Pitt: A Sports History of the University of Pittsburgh."

O'Brien and his wife, Kathleen, who has her master's degree in social work from Pitt, serve as co-presidents of Different Strokes, an adult tennis league with over 400 members in Upper St. Clair, where they also hold office in the PTA. Their daughters, Sarah, 11, and Rebecca, 7, are students at Eisenhower Elementary School in Upper St. Clair.

A 1975 graduate of Cornell University, Smith continued his education at the University of Massachusetts where he earned his Master's Degree in Athletic Administration in 1978. He worked in the sports information offices at both Cornell and UMass before coming to Pitt as a graduate intern in the fall of 1978. He was hired in his present capacity in the spring of 1977.

Smith's duties include the coordination of promotions and ticket sales for both football and basketball. Two years ago he won a CoSIDA award for the 1982-83 men's basketball brochure.

He is married to the former Nancy Rees; they have a daughter, Kelly Jean, age 6.

A 1980 Pitt graduate, Venzon worked as a student intern under Dean Billick one year before gaining public relations experience on the professional sports level with the Pittsburgh Pirates.

In four years, Venzon has hosted ten regional and conference championships in various sports. For the past three years, her duties were expanded to cover all of Pitt's 17 varsity sports, while assisting in football and men's basketball.

Venzon was selected to aid the NCAA in its initial women's basketball championships in Norfolk, Virginia. She is a member of the College Sports Information Directors of America and won her first CoSIDA award for the 1981 women's basketball brochure. Venzon is in her third year as the District II Academic All-America chairperson for men's sports. She is also a member of the Pittsburgh Pinch Hitters.

Venzon is originally from Harrison Park.

Even the strongest arms couldn't throw it more than five yards.

In the early days of football, the "pass" could be thrown no more than five yards, behind the line of scrimmage, end over end. But it wasn't a matter of choice.

Only when the shape of the ball and the rules were changed, in 1906, was the pass allowed to become a more productive part of the game.

Today the rules and shape of industry are changing. What was productive years ago is now challenging America's lead in the game.

At Westinghouse, we know that increased productivity is our country's only choice. And we're committed to exploring and developing new ways for American industry to get more productivity out of its natural strengths.

You can be sure...
if it's Westinghouse
